UNIFORM CRIME REPORTS

J. Edgar Hoover, Director, Bureau of Investigation

United States Department of Justice

Washington, D. C.

Volume 2 May, 1931 Number 5

Contents of the May Bulletin.

The bulletin for May contains a table reflecting the number of offenses known to the police as reported to the Bureau of Investigation by contributing police departments for that month. The figures in the above-mentioned table are confined to those received from police departments of cities and towns, as distinguished from the returns submitted by county sheriffs, State police, United States marshals in the possessions, and officers in a similar status. The reports from counties and other jurisdictions are contained in a separate table.

In addition to the above, returns for previous months received since the last issue of the bulletin are also published. Corrections and adjustments in returns published in earlier issues of the bulletin, will be found in Table II–A.

The term "Offenses known to the police" is designed to include those crimes designated as Part I classes of the Uniform Classification occurring within the police jurisdiction, whether they become known to the police through reports of police officers, of citizens, of prosecuting or court officials, or otherwise. They are confined to the following group of seven classes of grave offenses, shown by experience to be those most generally and completely reported to the police: Felonious homicide, including (a) murder, nonnegligent manslaughter, and (b) manslaughter by negligence; rape; robbery; aggravated assault; burglary—breaking or entering; larceny—theft, including (a) thefts of $50 and over and (b) thefts of under $50; and auto theft. The figures contained herein include also the number of attempted crimes of the designated classes. Attempted murders, however, are reported as aggravated assaults. In other words, an attempted burglary or robbery, for example, is reported in the monthly bulletin in the same manner as if the crime had been completed.

"Offenses known to the police" include therefore, all of the above offenses, including attempts, which are reported by the police departments of contributing cities and not merely arrests or cleared cases. It should be noted, however, that all cities of the country are not represented, as will be observed from the population table and from the tables showing the number of current and supplementary returns received by States during 1931. Furthermore, wide divergencies in the total number of particular crimes for various cities of approximately the same population may in some cases not be indicative of a variance in the amount of crime in those cities but may be charged to inadequate record systems, or a lack of understanding of the classification on the part of some officials. In such instances caution should be exercised, therefore, in arriving at any conclusions or deductions from the figures presented.

The bulletin also contains tables showing the extent of the population area represented by contributing cities, exclusive of county and other returns. The number of current and supplementary returns received, by States, for 1931, are also shown, and tables indicating the average daily number of offenses and the per cent of each offense class to the whole number reported are included.

Population Table.

The number of cities which at any time during the year of 1931 have contributed returns of offenses known to the police to the Bureau of Investigation reached 1,304 in April. The population represented by these cities is 48,771,574. This, of course, is exclusive of returns received from county and other jurisdictions. Police departments in 1,197 cities contributed returns of offenses known to the police for the month of May. Returns were also received from a number of counties in the various States, State police in several jurisdictions, the third division of Alaska, Hawaii, Canal Zone, and Porto Rico. Supplementary returns were forwarded from various other possessions. In the following table are shown the number and per cent of the cities and the number and per cent of the population of those cities of more than 10,000 inhabitants from which returns have been received for any one month of 1931. The figures are based on the 1930 census. In addition to those listed in the table there are 590 cities of an aggregate population of 3,282,357 which also contributed returns at some time during the current year. The population represented by the returns from counties and others is not included in this table.

Population groups	Total number of cities or towns	Cities filing returns		Total population	Population represented in returns
		Number	Per cent		Number	Per cent
Total	982	714	73	58,340,077	45,489,217	78
A. Cities over 250,000	37	34	92	28,784,770	21,330,815	74
B. Cities 100,000 to 250,000	56	53	94	7,540,966	7,109,837	94
C. Cities 50,000 to 100,000	98	87	89	6,491,448	5,717,331	88
D. Cities 25,000 to 50,000	185	149	80	6,425,693	5,223,202	81
E. Cities 10,000 to 25,000	606	391	64	9,097,200	6,048,032	66

The above table does not include 590 cities of a population less than 10,000 aggregating a total of 3,282,357 from which returns were received for 1931.

Returns Received from 1,197 Cities in May.

Police departments in 1,197 cities throughout the country forwarded to the Bureau of Investigation returns of offenses known to the police for May, 1931. This represents an increase of 541 over the number of current returns received for May, 1930. In the table which follows are shown the number of returns by States received and published currently during 1931.

Average Daily Offenses.

The daily average of the number of offenses known of the designated classes, as reflected in the following table, are based upon the figures submitted by 1,136 cities which contributed both in April and May. Due allowance was made for the variance in the number of days in each of the foregoing months.

Daily average, 1,136 miscellaneous cities

Percentage Table of Part I Offenses.

The per cent of each offense class to the whole for 1931 is shown by months in the following table. These figures, however, are not intended to indicate crime trends for the particular period but merely reflect the per cent of each class of the designated crimes to the whole group. The figures are based on the total number of offenses reported by all contributing cities, exclusive of obviously defective and incomplete returns.

Per cent of offenses known, 1931

Auto theft	24.8	23.9	24.2	25.5	26.3

Manslaughter by Negligence.

Under the classification manslaughter by negligence should be reported all unlawful killings, other than murder, which result from culpable negligence. The most common offenses in this group are manslaughters by vehicles. There may be instances, however, resulting in accidental death which should not be recorded as offenses of manslaughter by negligence. This group should include only those cases in which the circumstances are such that culpable negligence is so clearly evident that if the person responsible for the death were to be apprehended a charge of manslaughter would be filed against him. If, however, no criminal charges could be placed against the party responsible an offense of manslaughter by negligence should not be entered on the monthly report.
